

GONZALES DRAWS 30 YEARS IN PEN

Weilbacher Free After 14 Minutes

Narcotics Hauler Gets Stiff Penalty

Medina county jurymen take a dim view of the narcotics business, and to back up that statement, consider the case of Rupert Isais Gonzales.

Arrested three miles west of Castroville February 26, 1957, Gonzales pleaded guilty Monday in district court, and the jury set the penalty at 30 years after thinking it over about 45 minutes.

Gonzales, 19 years old when arrested, calls Piedras Negras his home. He has a wife and young child across the river.

On his way to San Antonio in an old car carrying 47 pounds of refined marijuana, Gonzales had to start hitch-hiking near Castroville when his vehicle broke down. He caught two rides, and went to the home of his "buyer", who was actually a San Antonio detective in the narcotics division, Manuel Ortiz. The purchase had been set up by officers.

Ortiz went with Gonzales to where the car was stalled, and other police followed. Joe Kinder, a state narcotics agent for the department of public safety, and Wm. A. Weilbacher, a sergeant in the San Antonio police department's narcotics squad, were the others who showed up right behind Ortiz and made the arrest. They summoned Medina county officers, and Gonzales was put in jail at Hondo.

District Attorney R. S. Crawford Jr. prosecuted, with the help of Roy Barrera, a San Antonio attorney. Court appointed defense attorneys were Joe Briscoe of Devine and F. X. Vance, Hondo.

During testimony Gonzales said this was his first trial at hauling marijuana. He was to collect $1595 for the 47 pounds, and was to return the money to the men who hired him in Mexico. They were going to give him $150, he said. In a written confession made earlier, however, he mentioned hauling a load to Chicago.

When asked why he agreed to drive the car carrying marijuana, Gonzales answered through his interpreter, "I needed the money."

He never got the money. He didn't even get home, and it will be a long time before he makes it, with that thirty years facing him. The jury had the option of selecting any period from two years to life.

Jurors were Alex Grant, Jr., Philo Crain, Lawrence Rothe, John T. Sollock, Jr., Weldon A. Robertson, F. C. L. Rutkowski, Ralph DeMontel, Daniel Tschirhart, G. C. Grisham, Harold Steigler, Milton Bendele, and Charles F. McKee.

Child Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury
The two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Timberlake, Kay Frances, received only a few scratches when she ran out in front of a car at the corner of Ave. M and 17th St. Friday afternoon at 5:15.

In town with her mother, the youngster slipped away from Mrs. Timberlake, who did not miss her until she heard the brakes of a car in the street. Kay Frances was struck by Raymond Ruiz Garcia, 17, of 1804 17th St., driving a Chevrolet coupe. Garcia, according to witnesses, was turning the corner of M onto 17th when the child ran into his fender, knocking her backwards, and out of the path of the car. Her shoulder and back were scratched up but those were her only apparent injuries, according to the doctor who checked her.

CAR ACCIDENTS
In addition to the above, City Policeman Orby Swatzell has also investigated three other accidents with the city limits recently.

On June 20 at 3:05 p.m., Mrs. Henrietta Ann Batot, driving a '54 Oldsmobile, was turning left on a green light at Ave. M. When her right back fender was struck by a car headed west on Highway 90, James Lee Ellis of Austin, driving a '57 Buick, had about $75 worth of damages on his car and those of Mrs. Batot amounted to $200.

Lizzie Smith Braniff, driving a '52 Buick, brushed fenders with Mrs. Lisette Baker Ginder, driving a '50 station wagon on Ave. M. on June 10. Total damage to the two cars was about $15.

Recreation Program Hires An Assistant

Interest in the Summer Recreation Program being held in Lacy Gymnasium has made necessary the hiring of an assistant for Tom Moseley, director of the project.

"Last week, we had 80 youngsters signed up," commented Moseley, "and it was impossible for me to watch so many by myself. Miss Mary Jo Meyer had volunteered her services without pay, but she was doing such a splendid job with the small fry, that the Board of Governors decided to hire her as assistant director."

Miss Meyer is well qualified for her work. She is an education major at Sul Ross in Alpine, and is home for the summer. If enough children show interest, she plans to add arts and crafts to the program.

Mrs. Buccì Awarded Scholarship

At the present time, her husband is stationed in Korea but plans to join Mrs. Buccì this winter and resume his architectural studies.

They have been accused of burglarizing Rena's Place at 10:30 Monday morning and the Universal Butane Company at midnight. An estimated $75 was taken from the two places.

The youthful burglars were apprehended by deputies in Devine Tuesday morning, less than 12 hours after the burglaries.

A San Antonio Detective Sgt. was acquitted of a murder without malice charge Tuesday in the 38th Judicial District Court in Hondo. The jury deliberated only 14 minutes before returning the verdict of not guilty.

Acquitted was William A. Weilbacher, 28, who was indicted in Webb County for the 1955 slaying of Felix DeAnda Linares. Weilbacher was working with U. S. Customs agents in Laredo in an attempt to stop narcotic traffic into the state at the time of the shooting. Linares was shot in the back by Weilbacher as he attempted to escape arrest.

The day long trial turned on the single point of Weilbacher's state of mind when he fired at the fleeing 24 year-old narcotics peddler. In his charge to the jury, Judge Ross Doughty outlined the Texas statutes governing an officer making arrests.

He said, "An officer may take those steps he feels necessary to apprehend a suspect, and no more. However, if he reasonably fears that his life is in danger, whether the danger is actually real or not, then he is entitled to stand his ground and defend himself, even to killing his assailant."

Weilbacher's defense hinged on the fact that the slain boy was under the influence of narcotics at the time of the shooting and in fleeing might have been in search for a hidden weapon to use on his would-be captor. Fred

Semaan, chief defense attorney, said that "Now we know Linares was unarmed and there was no weapon hidden in the area. But did Bill Weilbacher know that at the time?"

Prosecutors for the case, Medina County District Attorney Bob Crawford and Webb county Dist. Att., James Kazen, said he had no right to shoot the unarmed man. Crawford said in his final arguments to the jury, "I don't condone marijuana, but I don't condone killing, someone without reason, either."

Weilbacher's testimony about the shooting was undisputed, since there were no other witnesses. He said "I was afraid that he might turn and fire any minute. I had given him just a quick one-hand pat search and I couldn't be sure he was unarmed."

Weilbacher was asked by Semaan how much money he made. "400 a month." "Is that enough to get killed for?" he asked. Weilbacher wrinkled his brows a little. "No, sir."

The San Antonio detective, who went back to work Wednesday, said of the verdict, "I now know how those defendants feel that I've been sending to the penitentiary."

Jurors serving on the Weilbacher case were Jess Goslin, Allred Tondre, Ferd Rock Jr., Howard Boehl, Lawrence Rothe, Chas. F. McKee, Oscar Bendele, Felix Rutkowski, Milton Bendele, Matt Jungman, George Hansel Briscoe and Alex Grant, Jr.

Results of other cases coming up during the two-day court session included:

Yolanda Shepard vs. Arellondo Shepard, divorce, granted.

R. M. Akin d-b-a Bab Oil Co. vs. Texas Coast Oil & Gas Co., sued on account, plaintiff granted default judgement on sworn account for $1353.64.

Harold E. Schaefer vs. American General Insurance Company, damages, judgement for plaintiff, granted $8010.11.

Case of Bexar-Medina-Atascosa District no. 1 vs. Al Brown and L. L. Provence, suit to cancel oil and gas lease, case dismissed.

William A. Deans vs. Eula Eula Pearl Deans, divorce, granted.

Court Friday
Judge Ross Doughty will be back in Hondo Friday to hear additional cases.

Weed Cutting Service Proves Popular
Since last week, orders for having lots cleared of weeds have been coming in steadily, says City Secretary O. L. Moss.

"Several people living in town with acreage have requested the weed cutting service," he continued, "but we aren't equipped for it. We've even had requests to go outside the city limits but we have to draw the line somewhere."

Only lots within the city limits of Hondo can be considered.

One satisfied customer called in to tell Moss that since the lots on each side of him had been cut, the mosquito population seemed to have moved on.

There's been a shake-up in the Court House. To those of you who haven't been there recently, you might think someone had been playing fruit-basket-turn-over with the offices. While the tax assessor-collector's office is getting a face-lift, the office of the Justice of the Peace has been moved upstairs in quarters formerly occupied by the Farm Bureau agent and he has moved into the office of the County Service clerk. The tax collector's office took over the J.P.'s quarters on the first floor.

TT
William "Happy" Neumann, operator of the shoe shop in La Coste, paid the Anvil Herald his first visit since the move from their old quarters on Avenue M. He was much impressed. He spun several yarns about the high water they used to have in the good old days when the creeks came up and said that the recent rains had irrigated the pecan and peach trees fourteen times this year. "The pecans love it," he remarked, "but the peaches sure don't."

TT
Luke Wade, representative of the Social Security Administration will be in the district courtroom at the courthouse in Hondo from 9 to 12 a.m. on Tuesday, July 2. He will assist older workers and the survivors of those who have died in filling out their applications for retirement and family insurance benefits. He will also furnish information about disability insurance benefits.

TT
Call the Chamber of Commerce and leave your address if you have any newspapers, books, magazines, shoes, clothing, furniture, rags and bric-a-brac for the Salvation Army truck to pick up.

M&M Randolph Haas, M&M Marvin Haas, M&M Alvin Bader, Mrs. Verby Henson, Mrs. Albin Wernette and Douglas and Marvin Haas visited R. A. Haby and son L. J., Sunday. The day was spent in picnicking, swimming and boat riding.

Our thanks to SALLY BRUCKS for writing our column last week. We wrote one column before we left, another just after we reached California and had good intentions about doing another one for the June 21 issue.

But we had a good reason for not doing it. The day it should have been written and mailed, we were having lunch with CHARLTON HESTON.

Our principal reason for going to California was to attend the annual meeting of the National Editorial Association, and after the actual convention in San Francisco, the group, which included publishers and their families from all parts of the United States and Hawaii, toured the state. We were royally entertained everywhere we went.

In Hollywood, for example, the Association of Motion Picture Producers, representing all the studios, entertained with an elaborate luncheon at the Beverly Hilton and a few stars, who were not involved in actual filming work that day, were guests. PAT O'BRIEN was master of ceremonies and introduced the others present. They were not placed at a separate table to themselves, but one or two were seated at each different table with the publishers and their families. VIRGINIA MAYO sat between our two youngsters.

A few of the others present included ZSA ZSA GABOR, ROBERT DIX, MONA FREEMAN, KATHRYN GRANT, OTTO KRUEGER, TERRY MOORE, ERIN O'BRIEN, FRANCES X. BUSHMAN, ROBERT STACK, the TV comedy team ROWAN and MARTIN, western actors JAY C. FLIPPEN and CHILL WILLS and MARILYN MAXWELL.

The teen-agers of National Editorial Association parents seemed most impressed by ROBERT STACK. A very personable young man, he carried on conversations with ease. He dropped by our table and told us that he liked our mother-daughter dresses and commented that with a new baby at his house, he was getting to be known as the tightest diaper pinner in the area. But we still were most impressed by CHARLTON HESTON, who played Moses in "Ten Commandments". From his appearance that day, we'd classify him as the quiet type — although his role in that history-making motion picture marked him as a dynamic person.

All of them were quite gracious about giving autographs to the kids in the crowd, and took the time not only to sign names, but several even found out the name of their young admirers and wrote a personal note to them. For example, CHILL WILLS autographed for our son reads, "To Dear Ole Eddie. Best Wishes, CHILL WILLS."

After the luncheon, the NEA'ers were divided into smaller groups for tours of one of the studios. We went to Warner Brothers and visited the largest set in the motion picture city. It had been transformed into the Anzio beachhead, and "Darby's Rangers" was being filmed there.

Perhaps you're wondering why Hollywood should bother entertaining members of the weekly and small daily newspaper profession. The answer is simple. They realize that the publicity is their lifeblood. PAT O'BRIEN's closing remark was, "—and may you never run out of ink!" Those producers knew very well we'd go to our respective homes and write our impressions. So you see, we bit!

But it was a thoroughly enjoyable bite.

PA

The morning after that, we visited some different kinds of actors at Marineland.

Here, trained seals, porpoises and even a whale, the only one in captivity, are put through their paces.

That whale, an 800-pound baby named "Bubbles", actually has enough brains to jump up and do tricks at feeding time. The above named are all kept in big, out-of-door pools. Inside a huge structure, which has ramps leading to all different levels, are every kind of fish imaginable. All the indoor varieties are seen through glass and it was interesting to watch the sea diver wandering around among them and handing out their breakfasts.

California has Texas bested in one respect. It has the biggest group of promoters to be found. As a matter of fact, we'll bet they have more big promoters per square inch than the rest of the U. S. put together.

Their Hollywood Race Track makes Churchill Downs of Kentucky Derby fame look sick. They have a cemetery, Forest Lawn, which has visitors from all over the world wandering about the place.

And then there is Disneyland, the most fabulous place of all. Oh, that WALT DISNEY had come to Texas first!

Honestly, the state of California ought to build a monument to that guy. He is drawing more traffic into California than all their other attractions combined.

On our way out to the west coast and coming home, we'd hear people in restaurants discussing Disneyland — either they were on their way or had just come from there.

But, truly, Disneyland is ALL that it is cracked up to be and more. We couldn't suggest a way to improve on the place, as DISNEY did everything first class.

Some folks think of it as a paradise for kids, but we found more adults there than children. Each ride, each exhibit is different from anything else you've seen. Nothing is just routine — all the employees at the place are filled with enthusiasm, and courtesy must be their middle name.

But here we go, we've bit again! You see, MR. DISNEY gave us press passes. We saw or rode it all and now we're writing about it for the folks back home.

Now you know what we mean by promoters. California really has the biggest of them all.

CITES SOME FACTS OF VITAL CONCERN
TO OUR SOUTHERN COTTON-GROWERS

From the current issue of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank's Agricultural News Letter, we quote the following article which should be of vital interest to all who are either directly or remotely interested in the South's cotton-growing industry.

Read and be warned:

World production of rayon and other synthetic fibers continues to grow by leaps and bounds, according to a study by Frank D. Barlow, Jr., of the Foreign Agricultural Service. Output in 1955 was equivalent to 13.1 million bales of cotton, or 32 percent above the 1950-54 average of 9.9 million bales of cotton equivalent and approximately four times the 1934-38 output.

Prior to World War II, the growth of rayon and synthetic fiber production was relatively greatest in Germany, Italy, and Japan; in the early postwar period, the growth in other countries and the United States was relatively more rapid. However, during the past 2 or 3 years, expansion has accelerated in Japan, the Iron Curtain countries, and minor producing countries; projected growth in 1957 is also greatest in these areas.

By the end of this year, rayon and synthetic fiber capacity in Japan is expected to exceed the 1951 capacity by 195 percent, according to the study. Capacity in the Iron Curtain countries is expected to be 113 percent above the 1951 level, and that in the minor producing countries is forecast at 151 percent greater. Growth of the industry from 1951 to the end of 1957 is projected at 49 percent for Western Europe and 46 percent for the United States; world growth for the 6-year period is projected at 71 percent.

Quantitatively, the growth in production of rayon and acetate staple (cellulosic fibers) on a world basis since 1951 has been nearly three times greater than that of the non-cellulosic fibers, such as nylon, Dacron, and Orlon. The relatively more rapid growth in output of rayon and acetate staple fibers is important to future levels of cotton consumption, because rayon and acetate staple fibers are more directly competitive with cotton and are usually spun on the cotton spinning system.

Past growth, the presently available capacity, and the planned expansion of plants to produce rayon staple fiber indicate that this fiber will continue to compete strongly with cotton in the basic textile markets — regardless of comparative prices and that greater competition can be expected among the world's rayon producers. The increased competition anticipated among world rayon producers is expected to assure the passing on of production economies in the form of lower prices, particularly in the export market.

Since World War II, consumption of rayon has increased in England, the Netherlands, Belgium, Spain, and France; however, per capita consumption in West Germany and Italy has not fully recovered to prewar levels. In the last two countries, cotton consumption has increased markedly from the pre-World War II low levels. Consumer resistance to rayon and rayon-blend fabrics occurred in Western Europe as a result of experiences with this fiber in wartime, when it was used for many purposes for which it was unsuited. Subsequently, promotional campaigns and development programs have reduced consumer resistance to rayon in many countries.

Mr. Barlow points out that there is no "positive proof" that major textile-producing countries of Western Europe have provided direct assistance or incentives to manufacturers of rayon or other synthetic fibers during the past 5 or 6 years. Since the early postwar recovery period, the industry has operated on a profitable basis. Demand has increased, and — most important of all — prices of cotton, wool, and silk have been sufficiently high that no government assistance for synthetic has been needed. According to Mr. Barlow, there is reason to believe that the synthetic fiber industries in many foreign countries have benefited indirectly from their government's policies regulating the allocation of dollars for procuring raw materials and the issuance of import permits.

Throughout most of 1955 and early 1956, many foreign-grown cottons were available to Western European spinners at prices which were as much as 9 cents a pound below those of United States cotton; but after August 1956, United States cotton was sold at prices which were competitive with those for foreign growths. The competitive United States cotton export pricing policy initiated in 1956 can be expected to have a significant effect on rayon and cotton price relationships far into the future.

Some informed textile people feel that world cotton consumption will increase; however, many feel that the actual gain cotton might make against rayon would be relatively small in the short run. Increased competition between cotton and rayon in the principal rayon-producing countries would almost surely result in intensified competition in the export market among the world's rayon producers.

According to the study, many cotton textile people believe that the mill door is the crucial point of price competition between cotton and rayon. If this is true, the relative prices of cotton and rayon staple fiber may be highly significant in determining which of the fibers is to be spun and the extent to which they may be blended. Price has been an important factor in encouraging the blending of rayon staple and cotton into fabrics that are popular in the mass market.

Open House Held In Ranch Homes

D'Hanis — Three ranch homes south of D'Hanis were open Sunday afternoon from 4:00 until 7:00 o'clock to friends and relatives of the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Koch and daughter, Mrs. John Troxler, Dr. and Mrs. Alvin A. Koch and family, the P. M. Davises and Robert Koch, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sparger Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Sparger Jr.

Guests called first at the Sparger ranch, formerly the Tom Lanford place, where they were entertained in the comfortable modern lodge which is the week-end headquarters of the Spargers, who are San Antonio business people. The hospitality was designed to help the hosts get acquainted with people in this community and it succeeded in making many new friends for the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Koch were hosts in their ranch home, which was built for their permanent home when they came from Ingleside upon his retirement about two years ago. Beverages were served here and at the Spargers'. Beautifully planned and furnished, this home and that of Dr. Koch, about a mile apart, are on the ranch which had belonged to their late father, M. S. Koch.

The home of Dr. Koch, a San Antonio physician, is situated on a height which commands a view of the hills for miles around. Guests were served punch upon arrival, and later enjoyed a buffet supper. The little stuffed toy mule which had been placed at the front door was used as the register for the more than 200 guests enjoying the hospitality and renewing friendships, some of long standing, with the Kochs.

More Patrols On Roads For Holidays

Faced with the prediction that 10 persons will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the 24-hour period of July Fourth, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has called state police forces together for a coordinated effort to prevent death and injury on our highways during the forthcoming holiday.

Col. Garrison has ordered all facilities of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division and the License and Weight Division to bolster the force of the Texas Highway Patrol. Their mission will be that of patrolling our highways July 4 to remove dangerous drivers from the road before accidents occur.

"At least 120 more units from other divisions of the department 24-hour holiday to add to the Patrol strength," he said. "Our divisions will patrol around the clock, and every effort will be made to reduce the death count from the 10 we anticipate."

The prediction of 10 traffic deaths came from N. K. Woerner, chief of the department's Statistical Division, who said 12 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the holiday last year.

Col. Garrison said law enforcement officers throughout the state once again will be working overtime to carry their part of the traffic law enforcement load.

In addition to the operation to prevent traffic deaths and injuries the Texas Department of Public Safety will be keeping its eye on all other forms of violence.

The department's OPERATION DEATHWATCH will be in effect for the 24-hour period starting at 12:01 a.m. July 4. In the operation all forms of death and violence will be reported to the department here.

The state police director urged all Texans who plan to celebrate the holiday to plan safety in their activities, especially while swimming. And he suggested that special care be taken with foods to prevent them from spoiling before eating time.

EASY READING—Texas newspaper publishers will be given practical pointers on how to make their newspapers easier to read, by more effective use of type, at the Texas Press Association's 78th annual convention, June 28-29 in San Antonio. Howard N. King, nationally known typographic expert from New York City will be the speaker. He is with the Inter-type Corporation, manufacturer of typesetting machines for newspapers.

MEETS THE PRESS—Public reaction to the acts of the 55th Legislature have been both hot and cold. Texas publishers will get the viewpoint of the Speaker of the House of Representatives when Waggoner Carr of Lubbock addresses the Texas Press Association in San Antonio, June 28-29. He will be one of the headliners at TPA's 78th annual summer convention.

TEXAS' SERIOUS WATER PROBLEM—What Texas should do about its water problem will be told Texas publishers when they meet in San Antonio, June 28-29. The speaker will be Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources Committee. The occasion will be the 78th annual summer meeting of the Texas Press Association.

Hospital Movement Continues

By JERRY JUNE BERGER

"What's new on the hospital situation?" is a question that we frequently hear.

The snowball has actually begun to roll and a lot is being done although there isn't a whole lot of additional information that we can reveal at present.

An intensive survey has been made by Victor Probst, of the architectural firm of Probst and O'Connell of Austin, concerning the growth of Medina County and this area. He has gathered figures on the population change, the growth in tax assessments, the rise in the county seat newspaper circulation and many other facts pertinent to showing why the county's hospital needs have also changed.

All these statistics serve to show why more and better hospital facilities are needed in this area.

In addition to this, we hasten to add that our doctors are now required to serve more patients per doctor and this can be done most efficiently in clinics and hospitals. The era of horse and buggy medicine has passed, and the devoted country physician who, of necessity, had to go from house to house tending the ill and injured has gone with it.

Therefore, our hospitals must keep pace with the times. They must continue to grow and improve with each new discovery of improved medicine.

The procedure here in Medina County for securing what we need in hospital care will go along something like this: Members of the county-wide hospital committee, with representation from each town, will meet and discuss the findings of the Probst Survey, and consider the recommended needs. Next, the public will be told of the findings and a letter will go to each tax payer explaining the situation. The signatures of ten per cent of the taxpayers will be required on a petition to the county judge and county commissioners calling for an election, after which the election will be held and the situation left up to the voters.

Recognizing the growing needs of our county, it should be easy for the voters to decide the issue with an overwhelming FOR. After all, it is the voter himself who stands to benefit most by having the best in medical care available.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. William E. Berger
The Anvil-Herald
Hondo, Texas

Dear Mr. Berger:

Your editorial of April 12, 1957, only recently came to my attention. I wish I had seen it sooner, for I certainly would have written my gratitude sooner.

Despite this delay, I thank you very much for your fair-mindedness, your expressions of confidence and your good wishes. It is my firm intention to do exactly as the third paragraph of the editorial says: "...try and do the right thing for the state as a whole," without regard to the partisan differences of the past.

That is my conception of the job of a United States Senator. And within the limits of my abilities, I will, with God's help, do my very best to carry out this responsibility.

Mr. Berger, I would appreciate hearing from you, having your advice and counsel, in the days and months ahead. Let me know about the needs and desires of the people in your part of the state. And please do not hesitate to call on me whenever I can be of service.

Again, thank you for your editorial.

Sincerely,
Ralph Yarborough

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

D'Hanis — Citizens of D'Hanis showed a renewed interest in school affairs of their town last Saturday when 145 voters cast their ballots to increase school tax rate from $.50 to $1. Results of the voting showed 123 for and 22 against the proposal.

Hondo's Dr. O. B. Taylor is a hero at last. He had to wait 30 years but now he has it down in black and white. During World War I he served in France, around such hot spots as St. Mihiel and the Meuse Argonne, and then put in six months occupation duty in Germany. Last week he received a letter from Washington notifying him of the award of the "Occupation of Germany" medal. Doc wasn't very interested. He's got another occupation now.

Fogging of city for insect control started this week which is an improvement over last year's DDT dusting by plane. An insecticidal fog applicator which is operated on the ground is being used.

20 YEARS AGO

Edmund Keller, Robert Rihn and Wm. Santleben visited Hondo Monday and were in conference with members of the commissioner's court. Later they joined the commissioners in a visit to the low water bridge across Medina River at LaCoste.

D'Hanis — Soaring temperatures were believed to have caused a fire Monday that destroyed the hay barn owned by Mrs. Regina Deckert. The barn was a sheet metal structure. Loss was estimated at $2,000.

Castroville — Com. and Mrs. H. J. Bippert, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haby, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Schott and son, Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Nelson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Haby and some others whose names we failed to get, enjoyed a picnic at the Naegelin pecan grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCrea of Yancey and Mrs. McCrea's mother, Mrs. S. W. Worley of Uvalde, were injured in an automobile accident which occurred Tuesday in San Antonio on West Commerce Street. They were taken to the medical and surgical hospital.

At a card party, sponsored by the Children of Mary Sodality, Friday night, winners were: Pitch Annie Laura Renken and Mr. Herman Koch; High Five, Mrs. Linus Tschirhart; Bridge, Mrs. Alfred Schweers and Hugh Meyer; Bunco, Frank W. Graff and Shirley Schilling. Entrance awards were made to Mrs. Alfred Schweers, Mrs. L. J. Brucks, Mr. S. A. Jungman, and Father Paul Potgens.

D'Hanis — Mrs. E. J. Michna, who has spent a week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lieber, returned to her home in Seguin Sunday. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finger and little son.

40 YEARS AGO

La Coste — The Hondo Anvil Herald has been forced by the high price of paper and loss of liquor advertising to raise the subscription price to $1.50 per year. The LaCoste Ledger will follow suit in a short while or will have to suspend publication. This is prosperity with a vengeance.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koch, June 19th, 1917, a fine boy. Mother and child doing well while the proud daddy is wearing a "six-bit" smile.

Castroville — Messrs. Jacob Biediger, Wm. Rihn, Louis Scherrer and Leo Tschirhart have secured water privileges from the Medina Valley Irrigation Co., and will syphon the water from the ditch by pipes for irrigation purposes.

A car of horses was shipped from here to Uvalde and another to San Antonio this week.

50 YEARS AGO

T. A. Buckner has resigned as assistant editor of the Sabinial Sentinel and turned his attention to other pursuits. In his retirement the craft loses one of its most worthy brethren.

There will be a meeting of the school board of Hondo Independent District on July 8th for the purpose of electing a principal for the ensuing school term. The salaries for the term have been fixed at $75 per month for the principal and $37.50 per month for assistants.

30 YEARS AGO

D'Hanis — Mr. and Mrs. Henry Muennink and Misses Grace Zinsmeyer and Irene Finger are enjoying a few days of this week fishing at Medina Lake.

Mesdames Oscar Miller, Felix Richter and Miss Lucille De Montel were hostesses to members of the Forty-Two Club. A sunflower motif was carried out in the tallies and in the center table was a big sunflower trimmed pond where the "Eighty-four" favors, celluloid fish, ducks and frogs were floating. Hostesses for the next meeting are Mesdames Walter Rothe, Alice Reinhardt and L. E. Heath.

Wednesday afternoon, June 22, 1927, about 4 o'clock, a pretty church wedding was solemnized in Bethlehem Lutheran Church of Quilhi, the Rev. C. P. Hasselcarl, the pastor of the church.

Most Completely Changed Buick in History!

 NEW VERTICAL-VALVE V8 ENGINE has built-in "power-pack" at no extra cost.	 NEW VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLO gives unsurpassed smoothness plus new instant response even without switching the pitch.	 WIDE-CHANNEL X-BRACED FRAME forms a rigid, firm foundation for the new Buick ride.	 NEW CHASSIS provides superb roadability, lower center of gravity—yet keeps full road clearance.
 BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION provides easier steering, surer control on curves and corners.	 "NESTED" RIDE CRADLES BODY into frame for a smoother, more balanced ride.	 DROP-CENTER TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE imparts ride stability, makes more headroom and legroom.	 POWERFUL NEW BRAKES (air-cooled aluminum front drums on Roadmaster 75) give surer, quicker straight-line stops.
 QUIET REAR AXLE with ratio balanced to engine for even quicker response, greater fuel economy.	 LOWER, ROOMIER BODIES provide full headroom, longer legroom, more rear-seat "stretch" room.	 EXCLUSIVE SAFETY-BUZZER sounds a signal when speed exceeds the pace you preset.	PLUS 150 OTHER SPARKLING NEW ENGINEERING FEATURES

TAKE a look at that panel, and listen to the big news:
Every feature, as described here, never existed until the '57 Buick was built.
Every feature — and these are just some of the major ones — is totally new in the '57 Buick.

But what's most completely changed is the performance of this great Buick.

It's a car that drives and rides and brakes and steers and handles like no other car you ever knew before.

No words we can say will make you feel what's here. You must take the wheel and learn what happens when you and this '57 Buick come alive together. So drop in this week. A wonderful new experience is waiting for you.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Series.

Big Thrill's Buick — drives like no other car you ever handled before!

*It's got

of a lion*

(but it's a lamb to handle)

To know a Chevy in all its glory, head one into the open—the more mountains the better. You'll soon see why so many people dote on that smooth sure Chevrolet response and stout-hearted power. Chevy's performance makes their dollars look big!

You don't have to urge this car along. A Chevrolet comes alive with the flip of an ignition key. The power is charged with gumption. The wheel responds in a twinkling to tight corners or turns. And on a back road a Chevrolet steps with ease over ruts that would look like barricades to lesser suspension systems. In short, a Chevy shows "savvy." You can, too. See your Chevrolet dealer!

Uvalde Tops Castroville 9-8, Sunday

Uvalde's hard hitting Red Sox squeezed a 9-8 victory out of the Castroville Indians Sunday at City Park in Uvalde.

Harrell and Culp each got three for four off the Indians who tried four pitchers on the team from Uvalde. Winning pitcher was McKinney, who took over in the sixth from Wiebush. Losing pitcher was Beck, who replaced Tschirhart after 5 and two-thirds innings.

The Uvalde nine got 12 hits and committed 9 errors. The Indians got eight hits and slipped up only twice.

Little League Playing Good Ball

Giants Take Hornets

The Yellow Giants were too big for the Green Hornets June 21, on the little league diamond. The Giants took the Hornets 10-6.

Winning pitcher was Frank Hernandez who gave up seven hits and an equal number of walks. Dennis Neitenhoefer was the losing pitcher, giving up three hits and two walks.

Marauders

Moseley's Marauders did just that to Tondre's Thunderbirds June 20, defeating them 6-3 on the Meyer School diamond.

Winning pitcher was Joe Neuman, who went the route with the Marauders, giving up one hit and fanning seven. Neuman won his own game with his base-loaded homer in the fifth.

Losing pitcher was Al Breiten, who gave up five hits and struck out the same number.
